COMPREHENSIVE LABORATORY SOLUTIONS FOR THE HIGHEST STANDARDS

Consumer safety is of the utmost importance. That is why food analysis is particularly important. This applies to home breweries as well as industrial beverage manufacturers. After all, any contamination poses specific risks. Strict standards and regulations therefore apply to the entire production process chain. Your laboratory plays a key role in this process through analytical and microbiological testing. Be sure to equip it perfectly – from furnishings to consumables – and rely on Th. Geyer for a full range of supplies.

We reliably supply you with products from leading manufacturers and brands tailored to your individual needs, including two attractive alternatives: LABSOLUTE® and CHEMSOLUTE®. Our solutions for optimal laboratory procurement range from e-procurement and personalized support to comprehensive services that extend beyond your order. We understand laboratories – and, by the way, through our second major business division, Th. Geyer Ingredients, we offer additional expertise from which you, as a beverage manufacturer, can benefit.
